Expert opinions and well-organized lists demystify
the process of finding the right school for college bound students in updated third edition!

With thousands of colleges and universities, making the choice on which one to attend is daunting, to say the least. Overwhelmed, some prospective students limit themselves to colleges they think they can afford, or universities that don't really fit with their educational goals.

In his updated, third edition of The College Finder: Choose the School That's Right for You, Author Steven R. Antonoff, Ph. D. provides readers with a comprehensive look at national and international schools using a list format. More than 600 lists are presented, including best schools in fields like pre-med and business, hidden gems, best dorm food, great low-cost colleges, best places to study abroad, and activist campuses. A college-by-college index also allows for reverse look-up for students interested in where a certain school falls among the range of options.

As an educational consultant advising students going through the college planning process, Antonoff has worked with thousands of students trying to understand the distinctions between colleges. Why is one better than the other for a particular student? Frustrated with the one-size-fits-all approach taken by annual "Best Colleges" issues in various magazines, Antonoff began compiling his own and other expert's recommendations as he researched and visited universities. Those notepads, once organized became The College Finder.

If you're looking for an invaluable resource for your college bound student, you will not be disappointed in the depth and breadth of the information found in this book.
